1. RUSTIC VOGUE – A SOPHISTICATED TAKE ON COTTAGECORE

“Reclaimed wood is the core material that holds this look together – look for unique pieces that show plenty of grain and texture, rather than items that are perfectly finished.”

2. VINTAGE

“Antique, repurposed, salvaged and retro pieces all have their place in a vintage scheme. The key is to reference the look rather than slavishly reproduce it, using strong colors, favorite pieces and a less-is-more approach for a vibrant, cohesive aesthetic. “

3. OCEAN HUES

“Ocean blues are a key color trend for the year. Varying from deep inky tones through to soft aquas, blue is the perfect color for creating a tranquil home.”

4. STATEMENT HEADBOARDS

“With the rise of the boutique hotel and its trending look in residential design, the headboard has become a brilliant focal point in bedroom decor,”

5. STEPPING OUTSIDE – GO MULTI-FUNCTIONAL

“Investing time and money into cultivating our outdoor spaces – large or small – into functional and beautiful enhancements of our homes makes good sense”

6. Rustic ceramics may edge out smooth tiling in the kitchen.

“The kitchen designs of 2021 may swap smooth, uniform backsplashes for colorful, handcrafted ceramic tiling.”

7. Green cabinets could be one of the biggest kitchen trends of 2021.

“Anyone looking to add drama to their kitchens may want to consider painting their cabinets green. Street told Insider that both lighter and deeper shades will be popping up in kitchens everywhere in 2021.”

8. Plaster walls may make a comeback.

“To explore this trend without ripping out your walls, she suggested coating your drywall with a thin layer of plaster.”

9. Knotted Light Fixtures

“We’ve always believed a statement light fixture can tie any space together, and one trend we’ve loved lately is light fixtures using braided and knotted textiles”

10. Diamond Patterned Flooring

“My favorite (and seemingly most popular version) is when the diamonds are painted onto wood flooring. I know it sounds a little wild, but it feels rustic yet refined and is still in the vein of the eclectic English granny trend (as we like to call it) that exploded this year.”
